NEW COOPERATIVE WILL BE REALIZED AT MEETING HERE

Beekeepers of Southland Plan to Launch Organization at Atchley's

TO USE WAREHOUSE HERE

New Association Patterned After Citrus Exchange; Atchley at Head

Final steps in the organization of a cooperative honey producers' association, with William Atchley at the head, are expected to be taken here Saturday when representatives of the six southern counties meet here to consider the proposed contract.

Started last year, the proposal to organize the beekeepers into a cooperative, similar to the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, has been received with interest by many beekeepers. Mr. Atchley's building on Campus avenue is the only federal warehouse in the west for honey storage.

Seeing the possibilities of all beekeepers using this warehouse and of all the producers buying and selling through one association, Mr. Atchley proposed the cooperative idea of his fellow-tradesmen throughout the southland.

In Pomona Saturday night, beekeepers from all parts of the southland met and action resulted in five representatives of each of the six counties being appointed to meet with Mr. Atchley at his place here Saturday morning. San Bernardino county representatives are U. S. Standlea, Upland; Meyer Bros., Colton; Ivan Knarr and Irvin Almstead, Redlands, and Robert H. Reed, Highland.

At this meeting the contract creating Mr. Atchley's cooperative association will be submitted for signatures. Preliminary discussion on the merits of the cooperative was held at the Pomona meeting and when no special opposition appeared, each county association was asked to have five representatives here to give final approval to the proposed cooperative.

It is planned through the association for all the beekeepers to buy their materials and sell their products. A national sales organization is reported to be ready to handle the product.

Mr. Atchley explained that the proposed association is patterned after the California exchange.

VIEWS GIVEN ON NEW STREET NAMES

Preference Shown by Some in Response to Planners' Request

Some response today met the city planning commission's appeal for expressions on how local people want their streets and avenues named.

In The Upland News Friday, list of suggested names was published, giving local people an opportunity to express a preference on what type of names are most acceptable.

On Feb. 13, the commission meets for what may be the final consideration of the proposed names for local arteries. When the commission works out a plan the names will be referred to the city council for final action.

Purpose of the commission in seeking suggestions is to obtain a general idea as to what the public in general favors.

The city planners want to know il Ufpnadytttekieaawhose know if Uplanders prefer names of trees, flowers, distinguished people, states, Southern California cities or early California settlers or Spanish names for the local arteries.

A preference should be made and sent either to Ted C. Combs, secretary of the commission, or The Upland News.

Chaffey Concert Tonight; Popular Baritone To Sing

A splendid program has been prepared for presentation tonight in Chaffey auditorium by the Chaffey concert orchestra, Fred Wilding, director.

Mr. Wilding has selected a group of orchestral numbers that in themselves would make an excellent program, and to these will be added a number of vocal solos by Charles Ross, well-known baritone of Pomona. Mr. Ross is one of the most popular vocalists in the valley — he is considered a distinct addition to any program.

The concert will be given free of admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend

Menu For Happiness Listed by Speaker

Work hard in your chosen profession.

Be of service to your fellow citizens.

Have faith in something greater than yourself, in the belief that all will end well.

Such is necessary if one is to be happy, Geoffry Morgan told Chaffey students in assembly yesterday. He urged the students to seek out and find the that work they liked best.

One cannot get everything for himself and be happy, so help others, and constantly do good turns, he said.

Faith is an important essential in seeking happiness, he declared.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas and two children, F. C. Thomas and Miss Eva Anderson, motored to Balboa Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Thomas' brother, Forrest Steves.

JURORS FOR LOCAL DUTY SELECTED IN NEW COURT PANEL

20 Persons Will Be Called When Jury Trial Is Ordered Here

TO GET $2 FOR SERVICE

New System in Handling Procedure With Issuance of New List

Names of 20 persons as prospective jurors to serve on call in the Upland justice court were announced today. Appointment was made by Harry Allison, county clerk.

Jurors will receive $2 for each trial and 15c mileage for each mile in going to the court, the amount being fixed by law.

When an accused person pleads "not guilty" and asks for a jury trial, notices will be sent to the 20 persons to report at the court. Of those reporting 12 will be selected for the jury. If 12 persons do not report, police officials will be authorized to go out and bring others into court for jury duty.

Names of the prospective jurors as announced by Judge George R. Crane and J. F. Sawyer, chief of police, are: Mrs. Lulu Gregg, 646 East Tenth street; Mrs. Elsie Larkin, 290 Sixth avenue; William S. Avery, 221 East Ninth street; Reid B. Bordwell, 458 First avenue; Mrs. Damie D. Brest, 478 First avenue; Francis J. Hill, 428 Euclid avenue; Earl J. Head, 585 Eighth avenue; Mrs. Isabella Brown, 759 Second avenue, and J. B. Perschbacher, 1401 West Tenth street.

Mrs. Eva Alford, 522 Third avenue; Glenn M. Atwood, 513 Eighth avenue; Mrs. Amos R. Colborn, 732 Second avenue; Mrs. Julia J. Cutler, 1154 East Ninth street; Henry O. Blohm, 428 First avenue; Mrs. A. H. Stull, 265 Ninth avenue; Harvey Wenger, 481 First avenue; Mrs. Effie N. Swoap, 604 East Tenth street; W. C. Cline, 895 Washington boulevard; Mrs. Isabelle Wisely, 1095 Washington boulevard, and Leigh E. Thompson, 1695 Euclid avenue.

In the past, the selection of jurors for local trials has not been strictly in keeping with legal procedure, it is believed by Edward E. Gray, city attorney, and the changes were made at his suggestion.

The law specifies that all persons named on the panel are to be called when a jury trial is ordered, and that the 12 jurors be selected out of the group that reports for duty. Previously 50 names have been on the jury panel.

The jurors have not been paid previously, but this is a feature specified by law.

Red Cross Quota Here Raised As Many Unite In Aiding Sufferers

Responding to the call for aid with its usual whole-hearted promptness, Upland has more than subscribed its quota alloted by the American Red Cross as its share in the $10,000,000 drought relief fund, the full quota having been reached Saturday. Upland is one of the very few cities that have completed their quotas.

That the Red Cross benefit programs and appeals broadcast during the past week gave a decided impetus to contributions to drought relief fund, is the opinion of Red Cross officials. This is taken as an indication that any hesitancy in giving that may have been shown by the general public has not been due to lack of interest so much as to lack of information concerning the very critical conditions existing in the stricken areas.

The campaign in Upland has progressed satisfactorily, the chapter officials being well pleased with the splendid generosity of those who have contributed. However, in the face of the destitution and suffering already encountered, with the hardest part of the winter and the peak of the calamity yet to be reached, this is no time to let the contributions slacken. Upland must do her part.

In addition to the names published in The News on Jan. 20, the list given below contains the names of all contributors up to noon Monday. Another list will appear in Friday's paper.

In the purchase of family tickets in advance of the show opening, persons can vote for a princess candidate and Miss Harris is expected to poll votes from all Upland ticket buyers and many in Ontario.

As yet no Ontario girl has entered and Miss Harris may be the West End's representative in the contest.

Clair E. Kirk, chamber secretary, suggested that persons buy their tickets early and cast their votes for Miss Harris.

Benefit Program by P.-T.A. Council Nets Nice Profit

Officers and members of Ontario council P. T. A. are well pleased with the splendid success Friday night of the 11-act program presented at Ontario junior high school auditorium as a benefit for the council student loan fund.

Although the exact figures will not be announced until the regular council meeting to be held tomorrow, it is believed the sum realized from the entertainment will be about $75.

In addition to the financial results, the program was a marked success in furnishing enjoyable entertainment to an audience that practically filled the large auditorium. Members of the 11 associations in the council took part in the program, all working together in complete unison.

CHAMBER GOALS TO BE MEETING TOPIC

Directors Will Submit Projects For 1931 in Friday's Session

Membership and a 1931 program are matters to be discussed by the chamber of commerce directors at their first regular meeting in the Davis cafe Friday noon.

President L. R. Bradley, at a special meeting nearly two weeks ago, asked that each director submit at least one project on which the chamber should devote its attentions during the year.

A special committee on membership will also report. On this committee are Glenn M. Atwood, Ernest H. Gibson and Clair E. Kirk.

Upland Group Will Attend Hemet Meet

An executive board meeting of the Federated Aid of the Riverside Presbytery will be held Wednesday at the home of the president of the organization, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, at her ranch home near Hemet.

It is an annual custom of Mrs. Stewart's to entertain the federation and she serves the attendants, usually numbering 35 and 40, with a beautiful noonday dinner.

Attending from the Upland Presbyterian church will be Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Stone, Mrs. Isabelle Tweed, Mrs. J. F. Hamilton, Miss Rosa Dool, Miss Emma Lincoln and Mrs. K. W. Fuller.

Brown Rot Affecting Oranges and Lemons

Inspector J. Fred Anderson of Upland informs us today that considerable brown rot has just showed up among orange and lemon groves in the Upland district. Mr. Anderson has discovered this in a number of groves the past few days and says there is more of it than for a number of years past. He advises growers to inspect their fruit at once, as he is unable to visit all growers within a very short period.

Damp soil this time of year is a favorable breeding condition for the germs causing this rot, especially in groves where there is a cover crop. Bluestone is an excellent spray for use in eliminating this pest, and Mr. Anderson urges quick action to prevent the spread of this brown rot.

FUTURE IS BRIGHT FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BUILDINGS

Two Churches and Two Banks Will Start Work on Projects Soon

METHODISTS CALL BIDS

Foothill Improvement and Work on Residences Will Boost Activity

A glance at the plans for construction of buildings, roads, other improvements and a glimpse of the packing house activities reveal no signs of depression in Upland.

After studying plans for a new church building, the Methodists are preparing to call for bids on a structure to replace the present building at Euclid avenue and C street. It is expected estimates on the proposed structure will be opened shortly after the middle of next month. After the bids are opened, a meeting of the congregation will be called to make final building plans.

Estimated cost of the structure is $60,000.

Final plans for an addition to the Presbyterian church are also being considered and a structure to house the Sunday school department will be built on Ninth street, east of the present building, at an estimated cost of $9,000.

Work will be started soon on the construction of bank buildings for the Cucamonga First National bank and the First National bank of Ontario. These structures will represent expenditures of more than $150,000.

Construction of several new residences are expected to be started early next month, and this added to the residential construction already underway will add considerably to the total.

Work on the new Chaffey junior college building is now being done by a large number of men. Progress is being made in the construction of a large home for H. G. Eckstein on Euclid avenue, for Wiley W. Mather on Laurel avenue and for Lisle W. Reinhold company on East Ninth street.

Improvement of Foothill boulevard is expected to be started by March 1. This will mean the employment of a large number of men.

Construction of a reservoir and digging of a deep well in the district now being served by the Tioga Mutual Water company will also add to the activity. An election will be held Saturday at which time residents in the district west of Upland and south of Foothill boulevard will vote on the proposed project.

PRESENT SLUMP WAS INEVITABLE

Dr. Duncan, Pomona Professor, Gives Scholarly Address at Rotary Meeting

Dr. Duncan, professor of economics in Pomona college, gave his ideas regarding the cause of the present condition, which he characterized as unavoidable following the period of inflation such as was prevalent in practically all lines for ten years or more preceding 1929. This inflation went as high as 240 per cent above normal at some periods and is still about 150 per cent of the 1913 period.

In enumerating some of the causes for the depression Dr. Duncan stated that new inventions and machinery were a negligible cause. Not overproduction, but improper distribution of products is one of the causes. Installment buying in excess of income; speculation in securities which went as high as 40 or 50 times their earning power and resulted in the inevitable collapse in Wall Street are contributing causes.

The recovery of Europe as a producer of many manufactured articles has taken away from the United States much of its market in that line, whereas during the war and for a period thereafter we had almost unlimited demand for our goods at high prices. He also stated the late tariff wherein rates on many articles are unreasonably high has been a great detriment to this country.

Dr. Duncan stated that during the period of inflation many industries built immense plants looking far into the future. With these finished demand for labor in the building trades has been lessened greatly. A price readjustment the world over is essential before we get back to normal conditions, he declared. The long depression of the farm industry, due to inflation, is a contributory cause of present conditions.

Dr. Duncan does not view the future with alarm, stating we are possibly on the upgrade at the present time, but the reaction from the unhealthy condition through which we have been passing was inevitable, he stated.

Sweet Peas Bloom Again For Babies

The babies' sweet peas are blooming again!

This word comes from Mrs. Earl H. Johnson, who announces this spring's sweet pea crop is ready for the harvesting. The lovely blossoms are making a colorful spot in Mrs. Johnson's backyard and there are prospects for bountiful yield of the dainty and fragrant crop.

As practically everyone in the Upland district knows, Mrs. Johnson raises and sells these sweet peas for the benefit of the San Antonio Community hospital baby fund, every penny realized from the sales being given to this fund.

This is the sixth year of the unique and very commendable enterprise and it is interesting to note that during the past five years Mrs. Johnson's sweet peas have brought to the baby fund the splendid sum of $265.

When in need of sweet peas, phone Mrs. Johnson, Upland 749.

Water Committee To Discuss Problems

Whether Upland should seek to become a member of the Metropolitan Water district, and other problems concerning the local water situation, will be discussed at the meeting of the city council water advisory committee in the council chamber Thursday night.

This is the first meeting of the group since it was appointed by P. H. McQuillen, mayor, last fall. A chairman and secretary will be elected.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Colgan are enjoying a visit with William Colgan, a cousin, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McBride, friends, from Boston, Mass. They plan to spend the winter in Southern California.

NEW CHAFFEY HEAD IS BEING CONSIDERED BY BOARD MEMBERS

Successor to Dr. Hill Will Be Engaged Within Two Months, Plan

GROUP MEETS ON FEB. 3

Local Educator Will Remain as Supervisor and Aid in Work

Successor to Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of the Chaffey institutions, is being sought to serve when the local educator begins his duties July 1 as head of a new junior college department at the University of California.

Thomas W. Nisbet, vice-president of the Chaffey board, said today that decision on who will be engaged to become principal is expected to be reached within two months.

The board's plan is to retain Dr. Hill in a supervising capacity and engage a principal to handle the general business of the principal's office and gradually assume the management of the local educational system.

Going to New Work

Dr. Hill, who for 20 years has established a great reputation for Chaffey, has been engaged to direct a new department instructing junior college teachers and to correlate the work of the state universities and the California junior colleges.

It will be possible for him to be on the Chaffey campus frequently and it is the desire of the local board for him to maintain connections and supervise the general policies of the institutions.

As to salary, it is understood the new position will return to him a considerable increase in money, and he said today he is not concerned as to what his Chaffey work in the future will bring him. No financial arrangement with the Chaffey board has been made, but he has given the assurance he will expect very little.

> There may a mistaken idea arise regarding my duties in the new position at the University of California. It will be my privilege to give courses on the junior college, but in no sense will I have supervision of any of the junior colleges of the state. It has never been the policy of the university to supervise any secondary institution, nor will it be their policy in the future.

Candidates Considered

Several men, now prominent in Southern California educational circles are being considered for the position, Mr. Nisbet said. Possibility of some man already in the Chaffey system being advanced to the principalship is also being considered.

Several months ago Dr. Hill advised the board of his offer to become head of the new department. Since then the officials have been preparing for the change and at the February meeting the discussion of his successor will be continued.

Dr. Hill's personal feeling is that of regretting to leave this community in which he has risen from an elementary classroom teacher to the head of one of the most distinctive educational institutions in the nation. His close associates have known of many other offers he has received, but Dr. Hill looked upon the U. of C. situation as offering the greatest possibilities in furthering the junior college educational system.

His presence here as a supervisor will be in the interest of seeing the Chaffey institutions and the Chaffey community continue its steady advance.

Maybe Clara Needs a Spanking

The Beverly Hills Citizen, published over in that district where movie stars are about as numerous as the stars in heaven (but where few of the first named variety will eventually land if all we read about them is true) makes a few observations regarding Clara Bow. And Brother Barker has plenty of alibis for her. For instance, he says: "We are sort of sorry for Clara Bow. Nobody speaks up for her in her troubles. She just goes from one thing to another. She 'doesn't know' that half-dollars are ten-dollar chips when she tarries at a Lake Tahoe gambling joint; she 'doesn't know' that her girl secretary is robbing her blind until one of her numerous 'boy friends' comes along and makes the discovery for her; she 'doesn't know' when young men come to make love to her that they are getting a lot of publicity for themselves by basking in her smile. A sophisticate on the screen, Clara in private life is so unsophisticated that she needs a guardian."

It isn't all Clara's fault, concludes the Beverly Hills editor, for when Elinor Glyn said Clara had "it" she was on her way—and apparently she is still going. Maybe Clara is so young she should be laid across her mamma's knee and chastized with a good spanking. Perhaps she didn't know anything about "ten-dollar chips" at that Lake Tahoe gambling joint, but she must have been old enough to know that such places as that are no place for a real nice girl to inhabit.

But Clara's experiences and attitude are not so unusual among the folks of the movie colony. Lots of them make more money than they should and let it spoil them. They go out too much, stay out too late, lead too gay a life and dissipate too much. But it all seems to be a part of the profession, with few exceptions.

A competitor and "fellow sufferer" of this News Guy back in Iowa notes a rather contradictory condition in regard to "the times." Inquiring among merchants he finds the 1930 business showed a gain over 1929. They sold more goods and, though prices ran lower, most of them showed higher totals. Financial condition of the churches is also much better than a couple of years ago. Deficits have been wiped out and pledges are easier to collect. "And yet," says he, "times are supposed to be worse than they were last year." Does sound rather contradictory, doesn't it? It just sort of leads one to believe that when people get to kicking it's rather hard to stop. Seems to us we've heard a good deal of unnecessary kicking in this part of Uncle Sam's domain also.

—o—

And now we read that on a Kansas farm an animal as strong as a mule, possessing as great intelligence and able to withstand terrific heat has been produced. It has been christened "zebroid," and is a cross between a zebra and a Percheron. Why didn't they consider the skunk when they were looking for strength?

—o—

Some fellows are able to climb the ladder of success, but they lose their balance after they get to the top. In which case they usually go to the bottom much faster than they got up.

The fellow who misses the old-fashioned spittoon since his wife banished it from the house forever probably don't miss it much more than he did when it was in the house.

Notes of Society

Cucamonga Woman's Club Hears Dr. Spaulding—

A particularly interesting meeting of the Cucamonga Woman's club was held Friday afternoon when Dr. Phebe E. Spaulding appeared as guest speaker. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Powellson on East Nineteenth street, Mrs. George E. Keyes being co-hostess with Mrs. Powellson.

Dr. Spaulding, formerly a member of the Pomona college faculty, an artist and writer, spoke on "The Christmas Trail," telling numerous Hebrew legends and traditions, many relating to the nativity and some dating as far back as 500 B. C.

Dr. Spaulding's address really was a partial review of a book which she has just written and will soon send to her publishers, her exhaustive research into ancient traditions practically being a study of comparative religions, and her discourse was both enlightening and intensely interesting.

Following the program, the 30 or more guests enjoyed a tea hour, Mrs. Arthur H. Bridge and Mrs. Arthur Capen pouring at a prettily appointed table. Lovely sweet peas and lavender stock were used in the decorations.

During the meeting a brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. E. R. Hively. Mrs. Bridge and Mrs. Capen will be hostesses at the next club meeting which will be held at the Bridge home.

At the conclusion of the dinner a pretty courtesy was shown Miss Goodrich when she was presented with the handsome vase and flowers which graced the table.

A pleasantly informal evening was enjoyed, Mrs. Moremen's guests being Miss Goodrich and her mother, Mrs. J. B. Goodrich, Mrs. Clara Tilden, Miss Correne Hedges, Mrs. Archie L. Moore, Miss Morrisine Mahaffey and Mrs. Bess Jones.

Guy invited the members of the Upland News staff and their families to her home Friday evening and promptly at 6:30 "the force" arrived in a body to remind Mr. Guy that the occasion marked another anniversary of his birthday.

Lovely pink sweetpeas and other spring flowers were used on the dining table and in the living room where the group gathered after the dinner for a pleasant evening of chatting.

Those participating in the surprise party for Mr. Guy were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon V. Paine and small son, Abbott, who entertained with his freely bestowed smiles; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Business Confidence

Hemet News: Confidence is the one big asset of the optimist. It is confidence that moves mountains, drives off fear and enlarges the vision of the future.

Without confidence, the whole business structure would fail. When people deposit money in the bank, they have confidence in the banker else they would keep their money hidden at home. When merchandise is sold, the purchaser believes it is as represented, or he would buy elsewhere.

Confidence is the basis of every business transaction. Any act that destroys confidence is a backward step. The business man who does not keep his word is a dangerous element in our social structure. If he misrepresents the goods he sells, he damages not alone his own interests, but the future of business.

Dishonesty in business is more to be deplored because of its far-reaching evil effect. Like the ripple on the surface of a placid lake caused by a boat, a dishonest business act makes an ever-widening circle and injures honest business.

Business confidence can be maintained and strengthened only by honest dealings. Mistakes may be made but they may always be rectified.

Thus men engaged in business have a deep responsibility. They alone do not suffer from their misdeeds. In their dealings they should remember that they have a double obligation—to their customers and to their fellow business men.

Honesty in business is the first requirement for business confidence. That it is being practiced as a general rule by business is revealed by the growing confidence in business.

Advertising has contributed in large measure to this condition of affairs. It has business on a higher plane because through advertising business men have pledged themselves to certain policies. Advertising has thrown the white light of publicity on business and business has profited by winning greater confidence.

Just Another Gyp Game

Huntington Beach News: An agent for an advertising service sold a local business man a series of cuts and copy to run in 1930 which cost $167.00. The space occupied by the ad only came to $124 for the entire year. In other words the business man paid $43 more for the stereotyped copy that constituted the ad than he paid for the actual advertising space itself. One of the mats appeared in a January issue. The cut service saleman threatened to sue the local business man for using the cut beyond the scheduled period it was to appear if he did not renew the contract for 1931. The incident points its own moral.

Is Gene Running Short?

Reseda News: Tunney is going back to the ringside, it is asserted. The probability is that he did not make as much money as reported out of his bouts with Dempsey, and he is anxious to get some more easy money. His scholarship was not as profound as was claimed and his intimacy with Shakespeare hardly qualifies him as an expert in interpretation of the Bard of Avon Nevertheless he is now chumming with George Bernard Shaw who is freak enough to anybody but Tunney.

MRS. W. W. REEHL ACCIDENT VICTIM

Wife of Upland Rancher Loses Life When Automobile Turns Over

Funeral service for Mrs. Louise Phillips Reehl, wife of Wm. W. Reehl of West Twenty-first street, who met death in an automobile accident late Friday afternoon, was held Monday afternoon in the Todd & Reeves chapel in Pomona.

The accident that cost Mrs. Reehl her life occurred when she was riding in a roadster driven east on Highland avenue by her friend, Mrs. Bruce Beardsley of West Twentieth street, the two being enroute to the home of Mrs. Reehl's brother, Dudley Phillips, in Alta Loma.

According to the report made to the Upland police department, the accident was caused by the wet and slippery condition of the pavement following a shower. The car was being driven at a moderate rate of speed, according to the statement and as she approached a slight curve and depression in the pavement, Mrs. Beardsley applied the brakes, the car skidding and turning completely over.

Mrs. Reehl was thrown out of the car and suffered a basal fracture of the skull, death perhaps being instantaneous, according to an examination made by Dr. A. L. Weber, who pronounced the victim dead when she reached the San Antonio Community hospital to which place the two women were rushed by Herbert Goerlitz, Alta Loma rancher, who was the first to reach the scene of the tragedy.

Mrs. Beardsley was not seriously injured, escaping with a fracture of the collar bone.

Deputy Coroner E. P. Doyle held an investigation of the accident at the J. B. Draper & Co. chapel in Ontario Saturday afternoon. An inquest was not considered necessary.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Reehl, who was 29 years old, leaves her mother, Mrs. George Phillips, of Pomona; her brother, Dudley Phillips of Alta Loma, and a brother and sister, George S. Phillips and Miss Joyce Phillips of Pomona.

Panthers Win Over Santa Monica, 41-29

In preparation for their real test, Chaffey junior college defeated Santa Monica basketballers 41 to 29 Saturday night.

Riverside is the lot of the Panthers net Saturday and if Coach Mitchell's men can check and score fast enough, it will be something to write about.

Chaffey is tied with San Bernerdino for first place today with Riverside splitting its four games even, placing them a tie for third. Riverside, however, won over San Bernardino Saturday, hitherto undefeated.

Chaffey Goes Into Tie as Win Scored

Going into a tie for first place in the Citrus Belt league, Chaffey defeated Redlands 34 to 15 Friday and of outstanding performance was the work of Eldon Naftel in smothering Stater, Redlands' star basketshooter.

With this man covered, Chaffey had little trouble in getting one more win chalked up. Noel Brown, ace from Etiwanda, scored 12 points for high pointer.

Starting the quintet composed of players from the Upland district only, Coach Karl Kaiser vanquished what was thought to be the hardest obstacle in the first round.

Chaffey sophomores defeated Redlands' sophs by a 25 to 23 score.

Vacationers, Not Job-Seekers, Coming

Upland officials were advised today that a check on the tourists entering the state at present shows the majority of those coming now are tourists and not job-seekers.

During one check at the state's three border gateways revealed that of 1820 cars whose passengers were questioned, those in 1670 cars, or 91.7 per cent, were well-financed families coming to spend the winter here. The remaining 150 cars or 8.3 per cent contained persons looking for work.

Motorists Advised to Display Certificates

Upland motorists were urged today by theh division of motor vehicles to remember that certificates of registration for 1931 must not be locked away in some part of the house to be forgotten but must be kept in the car.

The law requires that the certificate of registration be displayed in the driver's compartment of the car.

Auxiliary to Sons Will Meet Tonight

The Sons of Veterans are invited to attend the meeting.

Uplanders to See Persian Display

Even though Upland will not be officially represented in the exhibits at the 21st National Orange show, local people will attend the San Bernardino classic. In a Persian Palace, is the decorative scheme. Many people throughout southern California are doing what Lucile Schofield, San Bernardino girl, shown here is doing—selecting fruit for a display. Show opens Feb. 10.

Mrs. Creighton Uses Muscle and Ideas in Making Backyard Garden

Mrs. Roy Creighton's backyard garden and Dorothy Thompson's writing ability form an impressive combination, with the result that close readers of the Farm and Garden magazine of the Los Angeles Times found a good local feature last Sunday.

Miss Thompson, a Chaffey graduate, now attending U. S. C., made good use of her camera and typewriter and described in detail Mrs. Creighton's out-of-door work and what she has created. Following is Miss Thompson's story.

Do you know that you can transform an ugly, sandy back yard into an ideal setting for a garden party in six months? Mrs. Roy Creighton of Upland didn't know it until she accomplished that feat herself.

Turning farmerette for a few hours each day, she has done most of the work herself, so the expense of the project has been comparatively small. Work in the garden started in January, continued in February, March and April, and is still going on in the shape of little additions here and there, but the effect is that of well-established arrangement—not that of a new thing, just being started.

At the beginning the large walnut tree shading the kitchen windows was the only thing that prevented the yard from looking like desert wasteland—now it suggests a corner of the Garden of Eden. After a large fishpond had been constructed in the yard, Mrs. Creighton visualized the place as it might be. Then, being fond of outdoor work, she decided to make her dream a realization.

The old walnut tree near the east fence takes on new beauty and dignity since at its base a circle of stones incloses a plot of purple iris and ferns. Down the center of the yard, sunken in the velvet green lawn, stepping stones lead to the back gate. In the southeast corner a large bed of coreopsis, gladioli and other such colorful posies grow.

The pond was designed so that it would be advantageous for raising goldfish, but after experimenting a bit, Mrs. Creighton discovered that the old fish lay their eggs and then, accidentally or intentionally, eat most of them. To provide a safe home for the small fish she built another pond, this time doing the cement and stone work herself. Granite stones border each pool and line the narrow path that separates the two and encircles the larger one. The pond for adult fish is centered with a large stone bird bath and fountain that when turned on full force, sprinkles the whole flower bed. Big green lily pads lie lazily on the surface of the water, and once in a while a lovely white lily opens, to close again as the sun goes down. Other water plants have found a place there, too. In a corner where there was only an unsightly foundation, tiny mountain goats graze on an Alpine range that rises in miniature majesty with a narrow stream trickling down between the ferns into the smaller pond.

Elephant's ears, cannas and zinnias are planted here and there around the two pools—in fact, almost everything is planted around them—pansies, larkspurs, snapdragons, marigolds, petunias, English daisies, boxwoods, ferns, cacti, wandering Jew, and many small and unobtrusive things that help to complete the general pattern. All of these look lovely against the background of green picket fence separating the Creighton yard from the one next door.

Of course there are some imperfections in this yard that has undergone such a rapid transition from plainesss to beauty, but nasturtiums clambering up a trellis have almost hidden the unsightly back steps, and another trellis all but conceals the dog kennels.

Such a project is proof that a small amount of money, a little bit of energy, and a lot of amoition, can bring big returns. With a proper mixture of these three ingredients, anyone can achieve the same result.
